

It started with this rough freehand sketch, but that was enough to build enthusiasm in the committee about "possibilities". From these "before and after" photographs, you can see the amazing transformation of this building from a dark and outdated interior space to an open, inviting, light-filled space that provides flexibility and functionality for the ministries of the church.

The project included 10,000 SF of remodel, including the main foyer and circulation space, the fellowship hall and kitchen, and the sanctuary.

This was the first phase of our master plan that will include future renovation of the exterior, fellowship hall expansion, classroom and office space, and a gym.

After

Before

Sanctuary

